Hello! I'm Steve Arrants, a Vermont-based technical writer and editor, content developer, and support specialist. Throughout my career I've investigated, researched, organized, and explained things in accessible and user-friendly ways. I'm not just a technical writer and editor. I also create and manage customer and technical support and knowledge bases for customers and internal audiences in Jira and Confluence. I can provide the same for your company. How? Just ask. Let's have a conversation.
